The London Times this morning has an editorial on the attitude of the parties in the United States in regard to the national debt. It says, admitting that regard to the national debt. It says, admitting that both the republican and democratic parties contain large fractions who urge the payment of the principal of the debt in paper, an American statesman, in the present vagueness of the law and in the craving necessity for economy, may conscientiously hold that view. But, the London Times argues, should this policy be carried into practice the credit of the country would be so deeply injured that for all fu-ture loans the United States would be obliged to pay a higher rate of interest than six per cent, so that they would lose in the end and thus their economical objects would be defeated.

Legislative-Remarkable Proceedings by the Board of Registration-Several Registration Offices Closed. NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 13, 1868,

The House Committee of Investigation into the conduct of the registration reported yesterday that a number of registration offices have been closed by order of the President of the State Board in conseorder of the President of the State Board in consequence of judicial decisions conflicting with instructions issued by him. The committee censure the State Board for their action in the matter, stating that the Roard had no right to issue such rules and instructions to local boards, but must be guided by judicial decisions governed by orders from the Court. The committee are of the opinion that the majority of the Board, consisting of Chairman Baker and one member, have exceeded their power, and recommend the repeal of portions of the Registry law and the recall of rules or instructions issued by the Board.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18, 1868.

ent exists here to-day an Considerable excitement exists here to-day among those who have obtained possession of the news over the supposed development of a plot said to be for some time in preparation in this city to procure the assassination of President Johnson. Yesterday evening a friend of the President's went to the currency printing division of the Treasury Department and asked for a man named Frank D. Evans, a night froman to the appeare of the printing division. fireman to the engines of the printing division stating that he was wanted at the White House. Mr McCartee, the superintendent of the printing divi-sion, deing absent, Mr. Larmar, the chief engineer, gave permission for Evans to leave his work. Mr. Evans was taken to the house of Colonel William C. Moore, the President's private secretary, where he was examined as to what he knew of the assassina-tion also. We start take assassinawas examined as to what he knew of the assassina-tion plot. His story looks remarkably like a false alarm, and can be briefly repeated:—Last spring Evans and his wife were boarding at the house of his brother-in-law, named Himebur, in Twenty-first street, First ward, of this city. Himebur was for-merly a rebel officer, but is now an intense radical, and holds an office under our city authorities. One night, during the impeachment excitement, Himebur, in the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Evans and his own wife, stood up in his own parior and displayed with wife, stood up in his own parior and displayed while great flourishing an American flag. This flag, he said, had been given him by General Butler as one of a company of conspirators organ-ized for the assassination of President Johnson. Evans said he felt alarmed at the disclosure, and did not know how to act—whether to tell the President or not. Finally he resolved the leave Himebur house, and went to housekeeping for him-self. But the fear of fatal results from the several friends the story of Butler and his flag. Evans says that his wife as well as himself was prepared to swear to its truth. Himebur, it appears, was capswear to its truth. Himebur, it appears, was captain of a negro company, composed of fifty men, whom he drilled every night, and these negroes were supposed to be in the plot. Colonel Moore told the President something about the conspiracy last Sunday, while out driving with his Excellency, but the latter paid no attention whatever to the matter. Mr. Johnson treats the matter with indifference. He has not seen after Himphur, Evans or his wife at all, and therefore the story, which has been mos industriously circulated, that he sent for Evans to pump him or ordered him to be sent to Hancock' headquarters, is entirely erroneous. The whole story is evidently a piece of extravagance on the part of Himebur, magnified and perhaps embellished by the fears and imagination of Evans. By some friends of the President it is regarded in a more serious light. They believe that a conspiracy really did exist about the time of the impeachment, but that it failed to ripen in time, and that now all danger is past, and that nothing is to be gained by serious investigation. Others say that Evans and Himebur have been unfriendly, and that the story was invented by Evans to Injure the other. was invented by Evans to injure the other. You correspondent had a talk with the President this af-ternoon on the subject, and found him not in the

President Johnson has issued the following proclamation:—

In the year which is now drawing to its end the art, the skill and the labor of the people of the United States have been employed with greater diligence and vigor and on broader fields than ever before, and the fruits of the earth have been gathered into the granary and the storehouse in marvellous abundance. Our highways have been lengthened and new and prolific regions have been occupied. We are permitted to hope that long protracted political and sectional dissensions are, at no distant day, to give place to returning harmony and traternal affection throughout the republic. Many loreign saves have beinged into liberal agreements with us, while has a which are far of, and which heretofore have been unsocial and exclusive, have become our friends. The annual period of rest which we have reached in health said franquility, and which is crowned with so many blessings, is, by universal consent, a convenient and suitable one for cultivating personal piety and practising public devotion.

I, therefore, recommend that Thursday, the twenty-sixil day of November pext, be set apart and observed by all the people of the United States as a day for public praise, thanksgiving and prayer to the Almighty Creator and Divine Ruler of the universe, by whose ever watchful, mereful and gracious providence alone States and nations no less than families and individual men do move and live and have their being. and have their being.
In witness whereof I have hercunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

WALLACE'S THEATRE. -At this home of the legitimate drama in the metropolis Kotzebue's popular play of "The Stranger" was given last evening before a large and highly respectable audience, with Mr. J. W. Wallack in the title role. The company at this these before a large and highly respectable audience, with Mr. J. W. Wallack in the title rôle. The company at this theatre is so well known as being composed of the most finished artists in their respective lines, that to merely mention that the entire strength of the stock appeared in the performance is to assert that it was given in unexceptionable style. Mr. Charles Fisher as Baron Steinfort, Mr. George Holland as Solomon, the butter, and Mr. Young as Peter, the butter's half silly son, were each, as usual, excellent. Mrs. Sedley Brown made her appearance this season as the Countess Wintersten and was well received. Miss Annie Ward as Charlotte was as pert and pretty and as correct in her part as could be wished for. Miss Clara Fisher's rendition of the beautiful song, "I have a silent sorrow here," received a well merited encore. Miss Rose Eytinge as Mrs. Haller was at first rather tame, but, soon entering more fully into the character, portrayed it most commendably. Mr. John Gilbert was rather too vigorous for an old man just risen from a severe illness. Mr. Wallack's interpretation of the leading part, however, can scarcely be said to have been very truthful. There was too much of the eyebrow and headbobing business, and instead of the deserted husband, writhing under his injuries, dignified in his scelusion and hating mankind, while yet doting in his heart on the wife who had deceived him, he gave a peculiar admixture of Hamiet and Macboth in his speech and bearing. The pictures throughout the play were well formed, but the version enacted last evening ended most unsatisfactorily, as the closing picture showed the wife prostrate on the wife is supposed to be dead or restored to her husband was affections the audience was left to conjecture. Thearne Comque.—The crowded house last night showed that Lingard is still a favorite. His comic sketches, comprising "Captain jinks," "Walking showed that Lingard is still a favorite. His comi sketches, comprising "Captain Jinks," "Walking Down Broadway," "The Grecian Bend," besides Down Broadway," "The Grecian Bend," besides other folics of the day, were well received. In his character of a gent of the first water, who gives the song "Bitter Beer," he recalls the foppish Lord Dundreary. His presentation of notable public men, such as Bonaparte, Hoffman, Greeley, Builer, Johnson, Grant and Seymour, evoked a storm of mingled cheers and husses. Butler and Johnson each received the lion's share of the hisses. Frofessor Hilion treated the audience to some samples of ventriloquism, introducing John Bull, a cannie Scotchman and Mickey Murphy. The Irishman, on being introduced to Mr. Bull, turned away with aversion, remarking, "Oh, he don't know me," an observation which brought down the house. The Professor was evidently not pleased at the unfriendly reception given by the audience to the Englishman. The Highlander gave "Auld Lang Syne" and was encored. The opening piece on the programme was "franchette," and the closing one "The Day After the Wedding."

Tony Pastor's Opena House.—Tony Pastor in his managerial career has evinced so much dash.

his managerial career has evinced so much dash, daring and enterprise that every performance of his troupe calls forth happy throngs of pleased auditors. Last evening, despite the outside excitement in the political world, there were so many hundreds present in his little theatre that the clog dancing, balled singing and Scotch divertissement entitled "MacGregor's Gathering" caused all the enthusiasm that the most anxious manager might desire. During the performance Miss Mille Turnour, who may in time excel the great Russian athlete Pfan, exhibited her daring, startling, yet graceful feats, evoked the encomiums of the majority of those present. The performance concluded with a drama entitled "The South in 1893," which is well worth witnessing.

CENTRAL PARK GARDEN CONCERTS.—After a sumhis managerial career has evinced so much dash, CENTRAL PARK GARDEN CONCERTS .- After a summer of unprecedentedly successful concerts Theodore Thomas will bring his garden concerts to a close on Saturday next. Last night this beautiful summer resort was crowded, and the programme well repaid resort was crowded, and the programme well repaid the attendance. Wieprocht, Rossini, Flotow, Strauss, Weber, Wagner, Meycrbeer, Verdi, Handel, Hill-brecht, Schubert, Hatton and Offenbach supplied the music for the two orchestras (last right being a galanight), and the manner in which each selection was performed can be readily surmised from the well known reputation of Thomas' unrivailed orchestra. The garden, which is now under the sole management of Mr. J. Goesche, will be refitted and prepared for the winter after this week, so that promenaders can bid frost, snow and rain defiance beneath the new canopy which will shortly envelop its walks, and with the new leating apparatus which will diffuse a perpetual summer through its arbors. The season has been to her an immense pecuniary success, but Maguire comes out at the little end of the horn to the tune of $6,000. Parepa and Tests, according to the Pacific critics, were the only members of the troupe who made a success. The tenors broke down during the season and the basses did not amount to anything. The manageress, however, did much to redeem the shortcomings of her company by her magnificent voice. She gives concerts this month in Sacramento, Virginia City and Salt Lake, and will reach St. Louis by the beginning of December.

NARRAGANSET PARK RACES.

The Pinest Rucing Park in America

Splendid Contents of Speed.
PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 13, 1868.
The first grand annual horse fair of the Narragan set Park Association opened at their grounds to-day with a large array of fine horses of all grades for the various premiums offered, which were awarded to the best. The attendance was large, the grand stand being well filled with fushionably dressed ladies and gentlemen. This magnificent place is the most elegant and comfertably arranged of any race course on the American Conjunct. and the track for excels any the American Continent, and the track far excels any other in this country. After the various kinds of horses which were paraded for exhibition had left the track the trotting commenced. The first trot was for a purse of $250, for all horses that have never trotted for money; mile heats, best two in For this premium five came to the post—Bep, Galen Boy, Frank, Graduate and the gray gelding belonging to Mr. Parkis. Frank was the favorite in the pools until just at the start, when Bep ran into favor.

Bep took the lead, the grey second, Graduate third, Frank fourth and Gaien Boy fitth. Bep drew away rapidly from the others on the turn, and at the quarter pole was six lengths ahead of the gray, Gaien Boy third, Frank fourth and Graduate fifth. Time, forty seconds and a quarter. Bep continued to open the gap on the others down the backstretch, and at the half-mile pole was ten lengths in advance. Time, 1:19. He then cut loose, and when he reached the three-quarter pole it was palpable that he would distance the party. He came up the homestretch steadily, winning the race and first and second money, distancing the field, in 2:38½. The following is a summary:—

SECOND RACE.

PURSE $2,500, for all trotting stallions, mile heats, best three in five, in harness; $1,650 to the first, $600 to the second and $250 to the third. For this race J. J. Bowen, of Medford, Mass., entered Drace Prince; W. L. Simmons, of New York, George Wilkes; Daniel Mace, of New York, Rhode Island. In the pool sales Rhode Island was the favorite, selling for $1,000, while George Wilkes brought $630 and Drace Prince ietched $260.

First Heat.—After four attempts the stallions were started, Drace Prince taking the lead, George Wilkes second and Rhode Island tird. On the turn Rhode Island broke up at the quarter polf, which was passed in thirty-five seconds. Drace Prince led four lengths, Wilkes second, one length ahead of Rhode Island. Wilkes seemed tied up as he was going down the back-stretch, and Rhode Island passed him. At the half-mile pole Drace continued to lead four lengths, Rhode Island second, two lengths ahead of Wilkes. Time, 1:10½. At this point Rhode Island broke up again, but as he reached the lower turn he trotted fast, Drace leading to the three-quarter pole three lengths, Wilkes three lengths in the rear. Drace came on the homestretch three lengths ahead of Rhode Island, Latter having broken up a third time. Wilkes was five lengths behind. Drace trotted easily up the stretch and won the heat by four lengths, Wilkes four lengths further off. Time, 2:244%.

Rhode Island, the latter having broken up a third time. Wilkes was five lengths behind. Draco trotted easily up the stretch and won the heat by four lengths, Wilkes four lengths further off. Time, 2:244½.

Second Heat.—Rhode Island was still the favorite, Draco the second choice, and many of those who had bought pools on Wilkes were anxious to hedge their money. After six trials the horses got away on even terms, but Wilkes cut out the work this time, Rhode Island second, Draco Prince third. The latter soon rushed to the front and Rhode Island broke up. At the quarter pole Draco led one length and a half, Wilkes second, four lengths ahad of Rhode Island. Time, thirty-four and a half seconds. Draco continued to lead down the backstretch and passed the half-mile pole in 1:08; Wilkes second, Rhode Island six lengths behind. Going around the lower turn Draco led one length, Wilkes second, Rhode island six lengths behind. He passed the three-quarter pole leading one length, but as soon as he cutered the homestretch Wilkes yoked him and soon drowin front, and came home a winner by three lengths, Rhode Island four lengths behind. Time, 2:22, which is the quickest mile that Wilkes ever trotted.

Third Heat.—The result of the last heat brought Wilkes not favor with all the pool buyers, and he sold for $1,600, while the other two brought but $600. Rhode Island got the best of the send-off this time, wilkes second and Draco Prince third; Rhode Island then broke up and was passed by Draco, who led to the quarter pole half a length in front of Draco, who seemed to be in difficulty. Wilkes held all length and a half seconds, Wilkes a couple of lengths behind. Wilkes yoked Draco on the homestretch, and they trotted nead and head for 200 yards, with Rhode Island a length and a half behind. At the half-mile pole, which was passed in 1:034. Wilkes led half a length in front of Draco, who seemed to be in difficulty. Wilkes trotted very fast around the lower turn, and was two lengths ahead of Rhode Island second, having made a gal made a gallant brush after recovering from his break. Drace was about eight lengths behind, and much distressed. Time of the heat, 2:24%.

Fourth Heat.—Wilkes was then the favorite at five to one against the field. He took the lead at the start, the others trotting head and head. On the turn they separated, Wilkes leading one length, Rhode Island second, one length ahead of Draco. They passed the quarter pole in this way in thirty-six seconds. Going down the backstretch they spread out further apart, and at the half-mile pole Wilkes led two lengths, Rhode Island three lengths in front of Draco. Time, 1:12%. On the lower turn Rhode Island closed up a trifle, but broke up before reaching the three-quarter pole, and Wilkes came on the homestretch two lengths shead of him. Draco was now completely beaten, being ten lengths behind. Wilkes maintained the lead up the stretch and won by two lengths, Draco Prince distanced. Time of the heat, 2:25. The following is the summary:— Time of the mary:

THEB RACE.

Punse $500, for all horses that have never trotted better than 2:45; mile heats, best three in five, in harness; $450 to first and $150 to second. There were nine entries, of which only five—Starlight, entered by Harrison Rogers, of North Bridgewater, Mass.; Belle, entered by Budd Doble, of Long Island; Pearsall, entered by James D. McMann, of New York; Prince Albert, entered by A. P. Morrison, of Medford, Mass., and Western New York, entered by W. H. Sancers and Son, of Cipte. N. Y.—came to the post. Western New York was disqualified, however, for having made better time than the class called for.

post. Western New York was disqualified, however, for having made better time than the class called for.

First Heat.—Belle was the favorite in the betting starlight took the lead, Pearsall second, Beile third and Prince Albert fourth. Going around the turn pearsall broke up twice and fell far behind at the quarter pole, which was passed in forty seconds. Starlight led four lengths, Beile second, two lengths ahead of Prince Albert, who was eight lengths in front of Pearsall. On the backstretch the marclosed up finely. At the half-mile pole Starlight led one length, Beile second, two lengths ahead of Prince Albert, who was ten lengths ahead of Pearsall. Time, 1:173. Going around the lower turn Starlight broke up, and at the three-quarter pole Beile led one length, Prince Albert second, one length ahead of Starlight, who was six lengths ahead of Pearsall, the latter trotting very rapidly. They came up the homestretch very finely until near the score, when Beile broke up and ran in a winner by a length, Prince Albert second, Starlight third and Pearsall well up. Time of the heat, 2:34½.

Second Heat.—Belle was a great favorite. Prince Albert and the mare went around the upper turn head and head, Starlight third, six lengths ahead of Pearsall, who had broken up, and they passed the quarter pole in that way in hirty-nine seconds. On the backstretch Belle went to the front and led two lengths to the half-mile pole in 1:1545, Prince Albert second, six lengths ahead of Pearsall. There was no change to the end with the exception that Pearsall trotted finely up the homestretch. Belle won by two lengths, Prince Albert second, six lengths ahead of Starlight, who was six lengths ahead of Pearsall. Three was no change to the end with the exception that Pearsall. Time, 2:314.

Third Heat.—Prince Albert took the lead this time, 2:314.

CRICKET.

All England Eleven vs. American Twenty-Two.
The second series of games in this vicinity by the visiting Eleven from England was commenced yesterday at the St. George's grounds, Hudson City, and although the reputation of the opposing forces, the beautiful weather and the extensive preparations made by the St. George Club combined to give promise of a pleasant entertainment and a fine dis-play of cricket the attendance was decidedly neagre.

At about eleven o'clock the few spectators began At about eleven o'clock the few spectators began to arrive, and at about half-past eleven the Seventh regiment band, posted at one side of the field, struck up a lively air. The venders of mutton ples, lager bier, clam chowder and sandwiches who had posted themselves near the entrance uncovered their wares, ready for the harvest thay vainly hoped to reap, the ground keepers hastly completed their preparation and the All England Eleven walked out on the field. Willisher and Freeman took the bowlers' positions, the latter having the club house end, Norley and Cashman went in to the bat and the work commenced. The inning, taken as a whole, was by no means brilliant on either side. The bowling of Willisher was in itself perfection. Griffith as wicket keeper was sharp and steady. Freeman also did some beautiful bowling, but beyond these three the Eleven did not distinguish themselves. Certainly the opportunities to exhibit any extraordinary fielding were very few, as the batting was generally for safety. At the bat George Wright excelled, making one three, one four, one two and several singles of of handsome and scientific hits. Wright's base ball experience in stealing bases showed itself several times, as none but a base ball player would take the risks he did two or three times to scenar a run. D. Newhall scored two twos and a three very nicely, Lee two threes and a two and Morrison ditto. The Friends of the Twenty-two seemed to think that the Philadelphia score might be duplicated had Cross been present to fill up, but at five o'clock he was not on hand, and the stumps were drawn with twenty wickets down and the score standing as follows:—
